Dear Jim,

Yesterday I had a long, off-the-record interview with Colonel Castorr, who denies almost everything, without proof. But how can one prove a negative? He does not really deny Father Machann's accusation, rather re-interpreting it in the special lingo of the radical right.

However, I expect to get from him and/or his wife the name of the Cuban at Parkland to whom Rev Machann refers. Both have told me he was shipped back to Miami because of his Dallas activities. I'll let you know when they do, because if, as I have always believed, that bullet was planted, this man has the character that best suits him for the task.

Mrs. Castorr also told me she never dreamed there were as many male nurses in the world as she saw at Parkland -and most of them were Cubans.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
